THE LUTHERAN BOOK STORE,

No. 117 North Sixth Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

A General Repository for Lutheran Church Publications and standard Literature, and Office of the LUTHERAN AND MISSIONARY, and the BUSY BEE.

Special attention, by one of long experience in the Sunday School work, is given to the selection of Books and Libraries for Sunday Schools.

Record, Minute and Class Books, Tickets, Reward Cards, Question Books, Catechisms, and every requisite of Sunday Schools, Sermon Paper, Marriage and Confirmation Certificates, and a general assortment of stationery, always on hand.

T. L. SCHRACK, Superintendent.

THE LUTHERAN BOOK STORE also publishes, and offers for sale, various valuable works, among which are especially the following:

The Church Book: Published by authority of the General Council of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America. This embraces the Liturgy, the Augsburg Confession, the Small Catechism, and the Hymn Book. Fifteen thousand copies have been sold in two years since its publication.

Price $1.00 to $3.50. By the hundred, $75.00. Sold only for cash.

True Christianity: A Treatise on sincere Repentance, True Faith, the holy walk of the Christian, &c. By the venerable JOHN ARNDT. A new and complete American Edition in English. Four Books in one Volume, royal octavo, double column, and beautifully printed. Price: From $4.00 to $10.00, according to binding.

This is one of the very greatest and most useful practical books produced by Protestantism. Though written more than two hundred years ago, it is still unsurpassed in its department. It stands out with marked and superior distinction in the modern ages. Next to the Bible and Luther's Small Catechism, it has been more frequently printed, more widely read, and more influential for good, than any other book, perhaps, that has ever been written. Boehm has not exaggerated, when he says that its effects, in the conversion of souls, have been such, that an account of them would make a history in itself. Dr. Worthington, of England, assigned it the first rank among devotional writings. Mr. Jacques, in issuing a revised edition of it in London, says, "Divines of all communions and persuasions, have united in their admiration of this delightful production. The late Dr. Edward Williams has inserted it in his valuable Appendix to the Christian Preacher; and the Rev. John Wesley made a most copious extract from it, comprised in Vols. I and II, of his Christian Library." No Lutheran household should be without a copy. This is the best and most accurate English edition ever published.

Lectures on the Gospels, for the Sundays and chief Festivals of the Church Year. By Jos. A. SEISS, D.D. Vol. I, containing 21 Lectures from Advent to second Sunday in Lent. Price: $1.75. Two more volumes to follow.

Ecclesia Lutherana: A Brief Survey of the Lutheran Church. A new and beautiful Book for the times, prepared as a Jubilee Offering to all Lutherans. By Jos. A. SEISS, D.D. Price from $1.25 to $5.00.

This book has met with general favor from Lutherans of all classes. Four editions have already been published since 1867. It is the best and most satisfactory vindication of the Lutheran Church in the English language, furnishing a large amount of reliable information not otherwise accessible to ordinary readers.

Compend of Lutheran Theology: A Summary of Christian Doctrine, derived from the Word of God, and the Symbolical Books of the Evangelical Lutheran Church. By Dr. LEONARD HUTTER. Translated from the original Latin, by Rev. H. E. Jacobs and Rev. G. F. Spieker. Price: $1.50.

A very valuable book of a valuable old Theologian; frequently used formerly as a Text-Book of Theology.

Early History of the Lutheran Church in America, from the settlement of the Swedes on the Delaware, to the middle of the 18th Century. By C. W. SCHAEFFER, D.D. Price: 80 cents.

A book highly approved, and full of important historical information.

The Lutheran Reformation, in a Series of Discourses, by E. GREENWALD, D.D. Price: $1.75.

These Discourses are highly prized by our people, and deserve to be circulated as widely as possible.

The Augsburg Confession, literally translated from the original Latin, with the most important additions of the German text incorporated, together with the three General Creeds, and an Introduction, Notes and Analytical Index. By CHARLES P. KRAUTH, D.D. Price: 80 cents.

Family Prayer, for Morning and Evening, and the Festivals of the Church Year, by C. W. SCHAEFFER, D.D. Price $1.00.

Also Plain Words, 60 cents; Church Forms; Child's Catechism; Tracts, &c., &c.

This is a new society, chartered during the past year, which is capable of being made of great use to the Church. It is meant to assist new enterprises in all sections of the country, purchase or take charge of property where no organizations yet exist, and to strengthen and aid wherever necessity may present itself. Any one can become a member by forwarding Ten Dollars annually. By charter, no salaries or profits of any kind can accrue to those having the management of this society. It is wholly and exclusively benevolent and churchly. Bequests and donations for the building up of the Lutheran Church will be judiciously and faithfully husbanded and appropriated if confided to its management. Any such bequests or donations should be made "to the Lutheran Mission and Church Extension Society." For further information address any of the officers above named.

A firm faith is the best theology; a good life the best philosophy; a clear conscience the best law; honesty the best policy; and temperance the best physic.

THE BIBLE AND THE REFORMATION.

In all lands in which the battle of the Reformation was fought, the Bible furnished banner, armor, and arms. It was, indeed, more than ensign, more than shield, more than sword. The Word of God opened the eyes of the Reformers to the existing corruptions; it called them forth from Babylon; it revealed to them the only source of healing for the sick and wounded Church; it inspired them with ardor for their holy work; it lifted them above the desire of man's favor, and the fear of man's face. The Bible made them confessors, and prepared them to be martyrs.

The Reformers knew where their strength lay. They felt that what had redeemed them could alone redeem the Church. They saw that, under God, their ability to sustain their cause depended on His Word. The supreme and absolute authority of God's Word in determining all questions of doctrine and of duty, is a fundamental principle of the Reformation—a principle so fundamental, that without it there would have been no Reformation—and so vital, that a Reformation without it, could such a Reformation be supposed, would have been at best a glittering delusion and failure.—Conservative Reformation, by Dr. Krauth.

THE MILK OF THE WORD,

A Romanist peasant in Ireland had obtained a copy of the Bible. It came to the knowledge of the priest, who endeavored to convince him that he had no right to have the holy book in his possession. Among other things, he told him "he had no business with the Bible, for St. Peter said it was not the Word, but the milk of the Word he ought to have," and he referred to 1 Peter ii. 2, in confirmation of his remark.

The poor man replied with a spice of Irish wit, "I know that well, please your riverince; but for fear the milk should be spoiled, I like to keep the cow that gives it with me in the house." The priest did not get that Bible.

LUTHER'S THEOLOGY EMBLEMATIZED BY HIMSELF.

Since you wish to know about the device of my seal, I will send you my first thoughts, which I would have my seal express, as a sign and token of my theology.

First, there shall be a cross, black, in a heart which shall have its natural color, that thereby I may remind myself that faith in the Crucified saves us. For if a man believes from the heart, he is justified.

But, although it is a black cross, because it mortifies, and must also cause pain, yet it leaves the heart its own color; that is, destroying not its nature—not killing, but preserving alive. For the just shall live by faith, but by the faith of the Crucified.

Moreover, this heart shall be set in the midst of a white rose, to show that faith gives joy, consolation and peace, and sets the heart as in a white festive rose. Yet, not as the world gives peace and joy; therefore shall the rose be white, and not red. For white is the color of angels and of spirits.

The rose is to be set in a sky-blue field; because such joy in the spirit and in faith is a beginning of the heavenly future joy—is indeed enfolded therein, and embraced by hope, but not yet manifest.

And in this field shall be a golden ring; because this blessedness endures eternally in heaven, and has no end, and is precious above all joy, and all riches, as gold is the highest and most precious of metals.—Letter to Lazarus Spengler.

THE ORGANIC UNION OF THE CHURCHES.

The time has not yet come for the union of all Lutherans in this country into one organization; but it must be admitted that the present divided and distracted condition of our Church in America is abnormal, and hence ought not to be accepted as other than temporary. The men in the General Council are persuaded that they are doing the very best thing in their power, under existing circumstances. They feel that they can accomplish most for Christ, and for the Lutheran Church, which so purely confesses His truth, by working in their present organization; and will adhere to it till something better is presented. They do not consider these forms of organization, however, as so fixed or essential that no possible changes can in any event be entertained. The Faith is the great thing; and it will be well to keep before the Churches the idea of some future correction of present distractions and consequent disabilities, by a closer coming together on the basis of the one, pure, evangelical faith of our Church. That coming together might perchance be in the General Council; but not necessarily there. Still, it certainly should be somewhere; and everything promotive of it ought to command the hearty support of all who love Christ, His truth, and His Church.—The Javelin.

MOON'S PHASES.

New Moon,	7th day,	8 o'clock	16 min.	Morning.
First Quarter,	15th "	11 "	2 "	Forenoon.
Full Moon,	22d "	6 "	6 "	Evening.
Last Quarter,	29th "	9 "	10 "	Morning.

Trials are of three fold benefit to true religion. Hereby the truth of it is manifested; also its beauty and amiableness; and thus, too, it is purified and increased.

A GREAT MISTAKE.

"There is no greater mistake," says an eminent divine, "than to suppose that Christians can impress the world by agreeing with it." No! it is not conformity that we want; it is not being able to beat the world in its own way; but it is to stand apart from and above it, and to produce the impression of a holy and a separate life: this only can give us a true Christian power.

THE DAY BEFORE DEATH.

—Rabbi Eliezer said to his disciples: "Turn to God one day before your death."

"How can man," was their reply, "know the day of his death?"

"True," said Eliezer; "therefore you should turn to God to-day; perhaps you may die to-morrow; thus every day will be employed in turning to Him."

"Behold, now is the accepted time"—"for thou knowest not what a day may bring forth."

HAVE YOU MADE YOUR WILL?

It is much the best for people to be "their own executors," by making distributions of their property, especially their appropriations to the Church and beneficent objects, during their life-time. They can thus make sure of having their contributions go directly, without further expense, just where they would like to see them applied. They may thus also have the satisfaction of seeing the fruits of their gifts before leaving the world. But, it is not always convenient or possible to do so. The next best thing, then, is for each one, having of this world's goods, to make a will, and have it duly signed and witnessed, bequeathing to the Institutions of the Church what they wish to have devoted to the Lord after they are gone. It will not make death come any sooner. It will not make living any more costly. And it will make nobody unhappy for being made long before death.

It is surprising that so few of our Lutheran people remember the Church and its wants in their wills. In other denominations, and even among men of the world, we notice bequest after bequest, and legacy after legacy, often vast and princely in extent, given to this or that charity or Institution; but our Lutheran members often make no wills; or, in making them, dispose of their accumulations and estates, often large, without ever once remembering the Church, or any of its great needs. Sometimes vast fortunes are left to be quarreled and lawed over, or uselessly scattered and wasted by thankless heirs, who would be very much better off without them. Is it not high time that this subject should be taken earnestly to heart? Can our wealthy men expect to meet in peace that God who has blessed them with worldly goods, when they leave their fortunes to be squandered and wasted by greedy expectants, and quite cut off the dependant and suffering Church? There are also persons of property and means who have no direct heirs. Upon such the Church and its Institutions have special claims, and may rightfully look to them for liberal remembrance. And seeing that not a farthing or rag of all their possessions can be carried with them into eternity, it is but reasonable that they should make such arrangements concerning their estates, as to secure to the Church and the cause of Christ at least a portion of their means.

It is, therefore, most earnestly commended to the consideration of those who must soon leave all their possessions behind them, whether they do not owe it to God and to themselves, either to come forward while they live with adequate and handsome donations to the objects they most approve, or to see to it that they have their wills well worded, signed, and attested, and that our Colleges, Seminaries, Synods, Churches and charities are properly remembered in those wills. And if it is in any one's heart to do something in this way, let him do it at once. Delay is hazardous; for no one knows how soon he may be called away.

THE DIVISION OF THE TEN COMMANDMENTS.

There are two ways of dividing the Commandments. The one places all on the subject of idolatry in one commandment, and divides the things we are forbidden to covet, into two; the other divides the prohibition of idolatry into two, and places all things we are forbidden to covet, into one. The ancient Jewish Church, the Roman Church, and the Lutheran Church adhere to the first arrangement, the modern Jews, the Greek Church, and most of the Protestant denominations adhere to the second.

It has been foolishly and ignorantly charged that the arrangement held by the Lutheran Church had its origin in the Papal Church, which desired thereby to get rid of that part of the Decalogue which forbids image-worship. But this arrangement was observed before the Papal Church existed, it goes back beyond the Christian era; it is the arrangement of the Old Testament itself. This does not appear in our English or German Bibles,—but if any one has access to a Hebrew Bible (in which language it was written,) he will observe the Commandments, as given in Exodus xx., are divided exactly as they are in Luther's catechism. Between each of the Commandments is placed the Hebrew letter Samekh (corresponding with our letter S,) for Satham, signifying stop. This mark of separation appears in the seventeenth verse, between the words "thy neighbor's house" and "thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's wife," &c., thus, Thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's house. S Thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's wife, &c. It will also be observed that no such sign of separation occurs at the end of the third verse, but that everything from the beginning of the second verse down to the end of the sixth is comprehended in one undivided Commandment. This Biblical arrangement is that which the Lutheran Church holds, and leaves to other denominations to displace it by another, which is man's work, of a comparatively modern date.

Furthermore,—there is a grammatical difficulty in dividing the Commandment on idolatry into two. The latter part says, "thou shalt not bow down thyself to them nor serve them." To what does this plural pronoun them refer? Surely not to "any graven image," for that is in the singular number. It must refer to "other gods," and therefore the whole expression goes together, and forms but one Commandment.

If it is objected that it is unnatural to divide the one sin of coveting into two prohibitions, it should be observed that in the repetition of these Commandments in Deuteronomy, two distinct Hebrew words are used in specifying this sin—the one signifying to covet with greed, and the other to desire with lust. It should also be borne in mind that two sorts of sin against our neighbor are forbidden in the Commandments of the second table, not only the act of injury, but the wish to do it. These are not comprehended in two Commandments, but in several, under each head. Thus in separate Commandments we are forbidden to injure his life, home, property, or reputation; and also in separate Commandments are we forbidden to covet his house, his real-estate from which he derives his living;—or his wife, servants, cattle, &c., on which his comforts and joys depend.

We see, therefore, the arrangement of the Ten Commandments observed by our Church is both the Scriptural and the rational one; two very strong reasons why we should always adhere to it, and also why other branches of the Church should abandon their modern arrangement, and thereby prevent the confusion now so often experienced when reference is made to particular Commandments of God's great Law.—*J. The longer you read the Bible, the more you will like it; it will grow sweeter and sweeter; and the more you get into the spirit of it, the more you will get into the Spirit of Christ.

GODLESS HOMES.

How many homes there are, where no voice is tuned to praise or uplifted in prayer, but where days and weeks pass with no direct, habitual, recognition of God and Christ; no morning worship, no thanksgiving at meals, no prayers at eventide.

Friends come and go; stories are told, systems are discussed, and plans are laid; but nothing is said of Him who giveth every social privilege, and no praises rise to Him "from whom all blessings flow!"

Is this right? Is it in the spirit of him who said, "As for me and my house we will serve the Lord?" Does it bring a blessing on the home? Do the angels hover around it as they do about those cottages where they gaze and listen while ransomed sinners sing that strain which they can never join, which tells of pardon through the precious blood of Christ?

Is yours a godless home? Let it be so no longer. Build up your altar to the Lord; offer your sacrifices to Him from day to day; and train your household in the fear of God and for eternal glory.

Have you departed from God? Return. Rebuild your desolate altar; take words and return to the Lord; confess your faults to Him, to your wife, to your family; and from this hour resolve that yours shall no longer be a godless home.

A WIFE'S POWER.

The power of a wife for good or evil is irresistible. Home must be the seat of happiness or it must be forever unknown. A good wife is to a man wisdom, courage and strength; a bad one is confusion, weakness and despair. No condition is hopeless to a man where the wife possesses firmness, decision and economy. There is no outward prosperity which can counteract indolence, extravagance and folly at home. No spirit can long endure bad domestic influence. Man is strong, but his heart is not adamant. He delights in enterprise and action; but to sustain him he needs a tranquil mind; and especially if he is an intellectual man, with a whole heart, he needs his moral forces in the conflict of life. To recover his composure, home must be a place of peace, of cheerfulness and of comfort. There his soul renews its strength and goes forth with fresh vigor to encounter the labor and troubles of life. But if at home he finds no rest, and is there met with bad temper, sullenness, jealousy or gloom, or is assailed by complaints and censure, hope vanishes, and he sinks into despair. Such is the case with too many who, it might seem, have no conflicts or trials of life; for such is the wife's power.

MOTHERS, SPEAK KINDLY.

Children catch cross tones quicker than parrots, and it is a much more mischievous habit. When mother sets the example, you will scarcely hear a pleasant word among the children in their plays with each other. Yet the discipline of such a family is always weak and irregular. The children expect just so much scolding before they do anything they are bidden, while in many a home where the low, firm tone of the mother, or the decided look of her steady eye is law, they always think of obedience, either in or out of sight. O mother! it is worth a great deal to cultivate that excellent thing in a woman, a low, sweet voice. If you are ever so much tried by the mischievous or willful pranks of the little ones, speak low. It will be a great help to you to even try to be patient and cheerful, if you cannot succeed. Anger makes you wretched, and your children also. Impatient, angry tones never did the heart good, but plenty of evil. Read what Solomon says of them, and remember he wrote with an inspired pen. You cannot have the excuse for them that they lighten your burdens any—they make them only ten times heavier. For your own, as well your children's sake, learn to speak low. They will remember that tone when your head is under the willows. So, too, will they remember a harsh and angry tone. Which legacy will you leave to your children?

Be cautious how you listen to tales of scandal. Learn to rebuke and silence the detracting tongue by refusing to hear. Never let the undertaker use your ear in which to dig the grave of another's good name.

ASTRONOMY.

Luther says, The science of the stars, and of the revolutions of the heavens, is the oldest of all sciences, which brought many others with it. The ancients, especially the Hebrews, gave earnest heed to the movements of the heavens, as God said to Abraham: "Consider the stars; canst thou count them?" Astronomy is a beautiful gift of God, as long as she keeps to her own sphere; but when she steps beyond her sphere, and seeks to prophesy future things, as the astrologers do, this is to be reprehended. I have gone so far in astrology that I believe it to be nothing at all.

THE CHURCH FATHERS.

It was the oft-expressed opinion of Luther, that those who stood as the teachers and guides of the Church in earlier times are ever worthy of our consideration. "The ancient Fathers and Doctors, such as Augustine, Hilary, Ambrose, Bonaventura, and others," says he, "should not be cast aside, but held in esteem and honor. For we see in them that the Church in their days believed in Jesus, and believed as we do now. St. Augustine was an excellent teacher. He taught faithfully of the grace of God. To Bernard, Jesus is as precious as to any one in the world. I could also wish that we had judicious selections from the legends of the saints; for there is much that may be learned from some of them. The legend of St. Margaret is an ecclesiastical allegory or type of the Church. The legend of St. Christopher is a beautiful Christian poem, signifying what a Christian ought to be, and how it will go with him. So is it also with the legend of St. George and the Dragon."

CHEERFULNESS.

Luther says, "A Christian should be a joyful man. We must suffer many things from within and from without, both from the world and the devil. But let them pass; be of good cheer, call on God, and have patience. He is a help in need; He will not suffer trials to overwhelm and ruin thee. They are good and needful for us, that God's power may be the stronger in our weakness, and God upholds His people wonderfully."

CACKLING.

When the hen has laid an egg, she always announces the event with a boisterous cackle. Proud professors and hypocrites follow her example. Such characters make a trade of godliness, and have no sooner done something commendable, even though with only half a heart, than they must needs have it trumpeted abroad, and put down to their credit. True Christians are of quite another spirit. They know how destitute they are of any merit of their own; and what God enables them to do they regard as no more than their duty, and take no credit for it to themselves.

COVETOUSNESS.

The covetousness of the Church is one of the worst curses that afflict us. It is, besides, one which the Church can rarely reach with its discipline. Profanity is punished. Drunkenness is attacked and dealt with indignant reproach. The whole decalogue of offences is more easily reached than this, which, so far as its destructive effect on Christian vitality is concerned, is equal to any of them. For it does not show itself merely in a refusal to take part in the benevolences of religion, but in its disregard of the rights of man, and in a violation of the plainest precepts of the law of God. A covetous man is a constant assault and battery on the justice and friendliness of society, and a disturber of the moral peace of the community. Selfish, growling, bitter and misanthropic, he only meets his fellow-men to scold and curse them. It must be so, for he is living in the face of all that is good.

MOON'S PHASES.

New Moon, 2d day, 7 o'clock 51 min. Evening.
 First Quarter, 10th " 9 " 2 " Morning.
 Full Moon, 17th " 12 " 4 " "
 Last Quarter, 24th " 8 " 20 " "

We should never go in the way of temptation for the purpose of trying the strength of our virtues. If Achan handles the golden wedge, his next step will be to steal it.

KEEP IT TO YOURSELF.

You have trouble; your feelings are injured, your husband is unkind, your wife frets, your home is not pleasant, your brethren do not treat you just right, and things in general move unpleasantly.

Well, what of it? Keep it to yourself. A smouldering fire can be found and extinguished; but when the coals are scattered who can pick them up? Firebrands when together can be trodden under foot, but when tied to the tails of Samson's foxes, it is difficult to tell where they will burn.

Bury your sorrow. The place for sad and disgusting things is under ground. A sore finger is not improved by pulling off the rag, and sticking it in everybody's face;—tie it up and let it alone;—it will get well itself sooner than you can cure it. Charity covereth the multitude of sins. Things thus covered are often cured without a scar; but when they are once published, and confided to meddling friends, there is no end to the trouble they may cause.

Keep it to yourself. Troubles are transient, and when a sorrow is healed and past, what a comfort it is to say, "No one ever knew it till it was all over."

THE SNOWBALL.

One mild winter day, some boys had made a snowball, and rolled it along until it had grown too large and heavy for them to move. It was an agreeable emblem of human cares, which are often little and insignificant, but we magnify them by impatience and unbelief, until they become greater than we can bear. Many a one keeps, night and day, revolving his trouble in his mind to no better purpose than these boys with their snowball. All they accomplish by their pains is to set up a sign that children have been at play, and gain nothing but a head more confused and a heart more sorrowful than before. We are often reluctant to give God the honor of caring for us, and as if He were drowsy, or negligent, offer to assist His wisdom by our folly. But we thereby lose rather than gain. Besides, what a high offence it is, if, when He opens the bosom of His compassion, and bids us boldly cast all our cares into it, for us to treat Him with distrust!

COURAGE IN EVERY-DAY LIFE.

Have the courage to discharge a debt while you have the money in your pocket.

Have the courage to do without that which you do not need, however much your eyes may covet it.

Have the courage to speak your mind when it is necessary you should do so, and to hold your tongue when it is prudent you should do so.

Have the courage to speak to a friend in a "seedy" coat, even though you are in company with a rich one, and richly attired.

Have the courage to make a will and a just one.

Have the courage to tell a man why you do not lend him your money.

Have the courage to cut the most agreeable acquaintance you have, when you are convinced that he lacks principle. "A friend should bear with a friend's infirmities," but not his vices.

Have the courage to show that you respect honesty in whatever guise it appears; and your contempt for dishonest duplicity, by whomsoever exhibited.

Have the courage to wear your old clothes until you pay for your new ones.

Have the courage to obey your Maker at the risk of being ridiculed by men.

Have the courage to prefer comfort and prosperity to fashion in all things.

Often when a preacher has driven a nail in a sure place, instead of clinching it, and securing well the advantage, he hammers away till he breaks the head off or splits the board.

"NO TIME TO PRAY."

"I have so much to do to-day," said Martin Luther to a friend, "that I shall have to pray three or four hours." And in this way Martin Luther triumphed over the powers of earth and the Prince of Evil. This man, who wrote a book on an average once a fortnight all his life, and who was burdened with a whole continent of Church care and toil, prayed the longer, the more he had to do. Modern Christians reason the other way, pray short, accomplish nothing, and become spiritually, as weak as water. "I have so much to do that I get no time to pray;"—this is the constant complaint in our lax, busy, unwatchful times. Little, dull, weak prayers beget inefficient Christians, while fervent prayers make men mighty, through God. Man tries to do the work of salvation alone, has little help from God, and sinks down discouraged. The help of the Mighty One is not begged for, long and earnestly. Servants of God, suppose we try the sublime and wonderful method practiced by the great reformer, and do more praying.

MOON'S PHASES.

First Quarter, 7th day, 6 o'clock 38 min. Morning.
 Full Moon, 14th " 4 " 46 " Evening.
 Last Quarter, 22d " 9 " 14 " "
 New Moon, 30th " 1 " 38 " Morning.

The Church's prosperity is God's highest glory, and earth's truest honor. As it succeeds, grace is exalted, and salvation flows. As it triumphs, heaven is justified, and man is redeemed.

CLERICAL REGISTER.

Names and Post Office Addresses of Lutheran Ministers in America.

Those in regard to whose Synodical connection we are not certain, we place an ? and ask for information. Those marked with a * do not belong to any Synod just now. The figures 1—54 show to which of the 54 Synods these Ministers belong.—S. K. B.
